

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Hello Friends,

It's been a busy time in the Capitol and the district these past two weeks. I was joined in Lansing by students from Hamady High School and Southwestern High School, kicked off March is Reading Month in our elementary schools, held two coffee hours and heard from the governor on her budget priorities.

I'm here to help:

We all know how important it is to stay involved and up to date on what's happening in our government, that's why I'm participating in an informational PFAS Town Hall tonight, Friday, March 8 from 6-8 p.m.

Join me and special guests state Reps. Sheryl Kennedy, Sheldon Neeley and Tim Sneller to learn about the spread of PFAS and what to do if you live in a contaminated area. I hope you can join us tonight.

If you have any questions, comments or concerns, I hope you will reach out to me. You can email me at any time at

Best,
John

Legislative Update:

Governor Whitmer's Budget Proposal

Gov. Whitmer's budget plan, released on March 5, covers many of the issues facing our state. Michigan is still at a crossroads and we need to decide if we want to continue to be at the bottom of the nation in education and infrastructure or move in a new direction by investing in our state and our people.

The budget recommendation totals $60.2 billion, up 3.6 percent from the current fiscal year 2019 budget, which includes a General Fund total of $10.7 billion and a School Aid Fund total of $15.4 billion. Excluding increased funding for transportation needs, the total recommended budget is up just 2.5 percent.

It's going to take hard work and strong steps to reach the governor's goals by 2030, but we can do it. Some of the goals Gov. Whitmer laid out for Michigan are:

- Get 90 percent of state roads in good/fair condition and provide additional resources for local roads.
- Have clean drinking water for all communities.
- Have Michigan students reach 60 percent post-secondary attainment.
- Make Michigan a leader in 3rd grade literacy rates.

The budget calls for increased investment in roads of $2.1 billion through a 45 cent gas tax increase. It will end the use of school aid fund dollars for uses outside of K-12 education, resulting in a funding increase of over $500 million for our schools. Local communities would see a 3 percent increase in revenue sharing from the state and there is a total of $100 million in spending reductions within state departments.

While I wait to hear more testimony regarding this budget, the needs across our state, and how funds will be distributed, I appreciate hearing thoughts and ideas from concerned citizens like you. I would urge you to follow the progress of this budget and other legislation on the topic by visiting legislature.mi.gov or for more in-depth reviews, visit the House Fiscal Agency website. Construction to Begin on I-475

The Genesee County portion of I-475 will receive a 44-million-dollar overhaul starting Monday, March 11. The project features a long-term, 50-year pavement plan that goes well beyond filling potholes. Lighting will be improved along several stretches of the highway along with improved signage and a complete resurface of the highway. Lanes and traffic will also be redistributed to improve driver safety. The project is almost completely funded by federal money with around 10 percent matching state funds. Once the project begins, southbound I-475 will be closed and detoured from the north junction of the I-475 interchange to I-69, with MDOT asking drivers to follow a posted detour using southbound I-75 to eastbound I-69. Barring any weather delays the project is expected to be completed by November of 2019.
